FOREWORD

The school year 1965-66 has presented many trials and triumphs for the student body. The schoolwork progressingly became more difficult, rules were adjusted to encompass the new buildings and campus, and school spirit was displayed in victory after victory in basketball. As we move into the world of adults, may we carry our enthusiasm to our daily tasks.

With this, the Tornado 1966 is presented to you, the student body.

DEDICATION

Harold Allen

The feeling most students have for this man is overwhelming. Any student may take their problems, whatever they may be, to him and get the kind of understanding that is known only by a few in this world of confusion and anxiety.

He has willingly given his time to many extra-cirricular groups besides teaching his classes and being advisor to clubs.

Although he has been here only two years, he has tried very hard to improve our music department. He has inspired students and given help when and wherever needed.

To you, Mr. Harold Maurice Allen, we, the graduating class of 1966, do humbly dedicate this Tornado Annual.

SENIOR HISTORY

Talent, spirit, and the will to take over the lead, have and will always be the guiding directions of the Class of '66. These three molded together made not a few individuals, but a group acting as one.

The talent has been found in many wide and differing fields. Members have had the ability to be outstanding scholars, musicians, athletes, and Thespians.

Each member has had the spirit which enabled him to gain the top goals which he has strived for. With class spirit high, we, as a group, were able to attain all the heights of greatness.

From the beginning our class worked by qualities of leadership which has shown like a beacon for the rest to follow.

In the light of future years we hope these three become as one to direct us in our tasks of life which we now face.

As Freshmen we were determined to become the best! We seventy-five freshmen were greeted at the hallowed halls of Yelm High School humble, respectful, and with the will to take over the lead. After initiation, spirits were regained and we were back on our feet to elect Jack Kominski as president and Earlene Herness as vice-president. Susie Tobin was there with pencil and paper as the secretary. Jennifer Murphy was the money taker with Terry Gould as the sgt. at arms. We played a big hand in the first Homecoming parade by taking the third place with the float, "Remember When."

We took over the lead when all danced to Sax's Fifth Avenue as the band played--the tradition of the live band was then set for the rest to follow.

As Sophomores we still had the drive to become the best. We were on our way with four of the varsity yell leaders coming from our class. Our classmates were among the top in sports with the boys playing on the varsity football squad and winning games on the junior varsity basketball team.

Aside from the sports, we elected Mike McFaul to the presidency with Diane Summers as his handmate. Mary Cameron kept the minutes as secretary. Jack Kominski held the order with the office of sgt. at arms. Earlene Herness kept us informed as student council representative.

The second annual Homecoming parade included our float, "The Spirit of '63". All gathered to dance to the eerie sounds of the "Outer Limits" for our class dance.

As Juniors the directions of greatness were growing stronger. The all-school plays found juniors with many of the major leads. We also seemed to have fine voices and instrumental abilities as three of our classmates attended "Music in May", a regional music festival.

Between plays and concerts, Leon Nutter gained the majority and became class president. Jerry Brown gathered the vice president vote with Earlene Herness as secretary. Lonnie Butler was sgt. at arms, while John Copeland represented us in the student council.

The float "We're Coming Alive to Knock Them Dead" was constructed by the class in the Herness barn. It was entered in the annual Homecoming parade.

The live band blared again for the third time as all danced to the "Ho Ho Ho's" of the "Valley of the Jolly Green Giant."

We played our part in our first formal dance, "Moonlight and Roses." The first Junior-Senior Prom to be held in the newly built McKenna playshed.

Coming back for our last year as Seniors, we were now truly in the lead. Class members were student council officers and the presiding officers in clubs. No one could stand in our way as we became the top scholars, musicians, athletes, Thespians, and above all, student leaders.

Our Senior year was busy from the start as we selected our final group of class officers. Terry Gould, president; Mike Fredricks, vice-president; Pat Shattuck, secretary; Robert Olson and Ron Huret, sergeants at arms; and Kathy Aschenbrenner and Jim Henderson, student council representatives.

The last Homecoming parade saw our float "We've Got a Tiger On Our Team," and our first Homecoming victory in four years.

As the days, weeks, and months passed, we prepared ourselves for our moment of glory as the details were worked out for graduation. Between the planning of graduation, we found time to sponsor our class dance and Junior-Senior Prom.

As the tears from sorrow and rejoicing were wiped from our eyes, the mighty Class of '66 gathered for the last time at our senior party after graduation.

Facing the world, now we hope the guiding directions of our high school years will become the guiding directions in our lives of tomorrow.

He Who Is Remembered Never Dies
—Murphy

God's Finger Touched Him, And He Slept
— Tennyson

In memory of JOHNNY RAY SIAS, a member of the graduating class of 1966 who was fatally injured in an automobile accident on June 29, 1965.

A fountain is to be constructed on the campus in his memory.

If I had thought thou couldst have died
I might not weep for thee;
But I forgot, when by thy side,
That thou couldst mortal be;
It never through my mind had passed,
That time would e'er be o'er
When I on thee should look my last,
And thou shouldst smile no more!
-Chas. Wolfe

Three Kinds of Courage

There's the courage that nerves you in starting to climb
The mount of success rising sheer;
And when you've slipped back there's the courage sublime,
That keeps you from shedding a tear.

These two kinds of courage, I give you my word,
Are worthy of tribute--but then,
You'll not reach the summit unless you've the third.
The courage to try-it-again.

TORNADO ANNUAL STAFF

Dave Steggell, Lorraine Dickerson, Kathy Lynne, Jim Siggelkow

The purpose of the annual staff is to produce the annual Tornado Yearbook. It is composed of two co-editors, an art editor, business manager, two photographers, two Senior representatives, two Junior representatives, and an advisor.

Harta Studio takes all pictures and produces them free of charge for the annual.

The annual consumes many long and tiring hours, but it is all very worthwhile. Part of it is drawing layouts, getting pictures taken, arranging pages, typing, and trying to meet deadlines which seem to approach all too quickly.

Finances for the yearbook come from ads sold by a group of seniors who go into the surrounding areas of Yelm, Olympia, Lacy, Lakewood, and Tacoma each year.

Miss Fairbanks advises for the publication of the yearbook.

Future journalists of Yelm high school put their utmost efforts forward to publish the school newspaper, the TORNADO NEWS.

The paper is a member of the Pacific Slope School Press and is distributed to the entire student body every two weeks.

The purpose of the school newspaper is to serve as a communications device. It acts as an information center for every student. It promotes school spirit and it acts as the leader of student ideals.

Co-editors for the year were Jerry Cowles and Suzie Rochester. Serving as the statistics-minded sports editor was Walt Coffel.

Miss Eugenia Fairbanks, journalism instructor, advised the students in their publications.

OFFICE

Office is a class just like any other class. Students get graded for work and a credit for completing the class.

A girl is qualified for office as a junior.

The purpose of the office girls is to assist students that come into the office. They also pick up attendence slips from each room each period and register each absent student on the daily absentee summary sheet.

Besides marking the attendence, the girls are kept busy filing, answering the telephone, and running off tests for the teachers.

LIBRARY

A librarian's duties are to keep the shelves in order and help students find the books they will enjoy or need. The main job, of course, is to check books out to the students and enter the book on the student's card, showing an accurate list of what he has checked out. In order to work in the library, a student must learn the location of all the important tools of the library.

The job of being a librarian in high school can have many advantages in later life. Jobs in the modern age require many of the functions of a librarian and a working knowledge of libraries. The discipline of keeping things in order, filing correctly, and working with others is beneficial to anyone.

These cries can be heard at almost any time, if you happen to wander into the audio-visual control center. There you will see some of the audio-visual staff running around, madly twisting knobs, or maybe just sitting around listening to the radio.

The audio-visual staff was established last year near the completion of the new classitorium. Many of the staff have returned this year to have another try at operating the equipment.

The staff has many responsibilities; among them showing films, filmstrips, operating the new motorized screen, playing records, recording, erasing, and playing tape recordings, setting up and using microphones, playing the radio, and operating the many diverse lights, both in the classitorium and on the stage.

The staff is graded by the teachers receiving the operator's services.

To be eligible for membership, a student must have at least a sophomore standing, a 3.00 accumulative grade point, and be in the upper third of his class. The Honor Society members and faculty then elect members on the basis of service, leadership, scholarship, and character.

To honor the members, the Honor Society sponsors an annual banquet to which the faculty, parents of members, and freshmen with a 3.00 grade average for the year are invited.

Graduating members are given Honor Society certificates and honor cords to wear at graduation.

THE MIRACLE WORKER

"The Miracle Worker" was presented as the fall play by the Yelm Thespians.

It is the story of Helen Keller, a blind deaf mute, and the opening of a new world for her--a world of comprehension. Not only is it a story of Helen, but a story of her great teacher, Anne Sullivan. Anne herself had known the frustration of blindness, Through patience and determination, the defiant Helen is transformed from an animal-like beast to a human being. Helen learns the meaning of a word, but Anne learns that she is capable of love. This relationship creates a moving story.

Assisting the athletic department to create varied entertainment were the Tornadoettes.

Wearing red and white uniforms, the 16-girl drill team hosted the first annual drill team "experimental clinic" on November 13.

Their annual dance "Eve of Destruction" featuring the Mustangs proved to be a great success.

Attempting to bring a name to Yelm High School, Miss Lou Ellen Peffer, advisor, instructed the Tornadoettes in parade maneuvers and competition drilling throughout the year.

We don't consider ourselves just an ordinary club—we strive to become a team.

The drill team is becoming more active and more important as each year passes.

Juniors

The class of '67 entered its third year of high school to find itself the smallest class and that it must solve the riddle of team teaching. Undaunted, this meager group struggled to understand this new phase of learning. Some students came up with the idea that the teachers were finally ganging up on the pupils. They soon decided that this was not the case as they learned of the difficulties of this type of teaching. By discussing their problems with the teachers, they began to solve them one by one. Then, their four teachers started to teach U. S. History in earnest.

Sophomores

A change of scenery greeted the Class of '68 at the beginning of the '65-'66 school year. Driver's Education and Physical Education were no longer separate classes. They had been combined because Driver's Education used to be six weeks of class and thirty weeks of study hall. When they were teamed up, the Sophomores had six weeks of Driver Education and thirty weeks of P.E. with an extra class period. The Sophomores now can carry seven solids and a study hall.

Freshmen

The buildings, halls and floors, were ringing with the footsteps of the Class of '69. They were the largest class in high school and meant to be noticed.

They won the first prize for their float which was made in the shape of a huge beanie.

The Freshmen found, as they entered their classrooms, that high school was work. The challenges of biology and Washington history faced them but they showed they would do their best. The old familiar classes, English, physical education, and math, seemed changed by the hurry flurry of the four minute bells. They also found out that lockers open better when one uses the right combination.

Pres, Lynn Crimmins; Sgt. at Arms, Claton Anderson; Sec.-Treas., Debby Gibson; Vice Pres., Judy Gilbert; Sgt. at Arms, Mike Littlejohn; S.C. Rep., Jake Butler.

In this annual we've tried to preserve some of the many memories from this school year. The staff hopes you will enjoy it and look back at the many accomplishments of the student body.

We, the annual editors, would like to thank the following people who put time and effort into making the yearbook possible: Jerry Cowles & Suzie Rochester for writing the senior class history, Anita Wright & Zelma Greeson for the underclass section, all the kids who sold ads in the fall, Dave Hinton for keeping our books in order, Jim Ryan for our art work, our photographers John Wilson & Jim Siggelkow, Mr. Harta for his many long hours of picture taking for the annual, and special thanks to Noreen Dunagan & Pat Brown for doing the ad section. We also thank Miss Fairbanks for her advise and suggestions.
